

PLease do not weaken any of the do not call listings. I currently enjoy not hearing my phone ring at absurd hours from people I don't know or never contacted in the first place. I think it's the consumers rights to have a clear phone line when they want to use it not when someone who gets my phone number from someone else and thinks that I qualify for some product they are selling. If I wanted it I would have bought it already.